

MARSHALL GETS TOUGH WITH RUSSIA

FRANCE ASKS
BLUM TO PICK
NEW CABINETCOMMUNIST STRIKE
WAVE BRINGS ON FRESH CRISIS

Paris, Nov. 19 (AP)—A spokesman for the Socialist party announced today that former premier Leon Blum had agreed to try to form a new government.

A rising wave of Communist-led strikes provided the background.

The announcement was made by Guy Mollet, secretary general of the Socialist party, at a luncheon of the Anglo-American Correspondents Association.

Mollet, considered a member of the left wing of the Socialists, said he believed a new cabinet would be formed within a few days to succeed that of Socialist Premier Paul Ramadier.

Bread Assured

Military trucks rushed flour into Paris to assure the French capital of its daily bread.

Paul Reynaud, Independent, who was France's last premier before formation of the Vichy regime, had run into difficulties in efforts to form a government with Socialist support. The left wing shied away and the rightists insisted that he should not permit the left to dominate any cabinet he might form.

The efforts of Premier Ramadier himself to strengthen his coalition cabinet also have met with little success.

Mollet said a force was necessary to oppose both the Communists and Gen. Charles de Gaulle's rightist French People's party (RPF). He said a Blum government represented France's last chance to keep herself a country in which would be found "neither Fascists nor Communists."

Ports Tied Up

Blum, 75-year-old veteran statesman, formed a caretaker coalition government of all Socialist last December during the transition to the Fourth republic.

Poland Protests
To Sweden Over
Smuggling System

Warsaw, Nov. 19 (AP)—Poland protested to Sweden today against what she called the "systematic smuggling of Poles abroad by Swedish officials and Swedish citizens" and demand that Sweden recall her consul in Gdansk (Danzig).

The government charged that the Swedish consul, Torsten Johan Frederik Bergendahl, was involved in the flight to Sweden from Poland of parliament member Stefan Korbaniski and his wife.

(Korbaniski, a member of Stanislaw Mikolajczyk's Polish Peasant Party, has now joined Mikolajczyk in self exile in England. He and his wife made the trip by way of Stockholm).

TRUSTY TAKES WALK

Milan, Mich., Nov. 19 (AP)—State police of Michigan, Illinois and Ohio were searching today for Robert F. Lockwood, 24, of Grand Rapids, a trusty who walked away from the Federal Prison here yesterday.

Warden C. J. Shuttlesworth said Lockwood strolled away from the prison dairy farm.

IRON MOUNTAIN
HUNTER KILLEDDeer Season Death Toll
Now 11 With Season
In Fifth Day

(By The Associated Press)

Eleven deer hunters had lost their lives through gunshot wounds in Michigan's north woods today (Wednesday) as the 1947 season went into its fifth day.

Most recent fatal accidents were reported yesterday, one near Manistee and the other in the Iron Mountain district.

Szalowski, 36, of Manistee county, was killed by a stray bullet in his home county. Another hunter, Edwin Werth, came upon the body a few minutes after Szalowski was shot to death.

The other victim was 45-year-old Orbin Bloom of Iron Mountain, shot in the abdomen by another member of his party as he hunted in the Upper Peninsula woods near his home.

Three other persons among the thousands who roamed the north woods in search of deer were injured by gunshot yesterday. A pair of teen-agers, 17-year-old Rose Marie Schneider of Flint and Calvin Hall, 14, of Pickford, were two of the hurt hunters.

The girl was injured in the left side by stray gunshot while she hunted in Alpena county, and Calvin was treated for chest wounds which state police said were inflicted by a 15-year-old companion.

Young Man Found
Shot In Head On Farm Near Pontiac

Pontiac, Mich., Nov. 19 (AP)—Kenneth Luhn, 25-year-old Army Air Force veteran and an employee at the Pontiac division of General Motors corporation, was found in critical condition in a barn near here today with three bullet holes in his head.

The man was clad only in shorts, shoes and socks when he was found by Walter Laughhead, who works on the Johnson farm on Adams Road.

First clue to his identity came at St. Joseph's hospital where Luhn, who was semi-conscious, babbled a Lake Orion address.

Authorities rushed to the address and learned Luhn is the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Cook of 218 West Cliff St., Lake Orion. He made his home with them.

Chompers Gum Up
Freedom Train Rug

Reading, Pa., Nov. 19 (AP)—The marines guarding the priceless historical documents on the Freedom Train are having bubble gum trouble.

Walter H. S. O'Brien, director of the train, told members of the Reading Rotary club yesterday that it took two men eight hours to clean the plush carpet in the train recently.

Hegblom Lines Up
MacArthur Boom

Detroit (AP)—Two Detroit attorneys who led a campaign for Republican candidate Thomas E. Dewey in the 1944 presidential election headed a "MacArthur for president" committee which incorporated here Tuesday. Arthur F. Moore and U. S. A. Hegblom, leaders of the new group, expressed belief that "MacArthur is the only Republican candidate on the horizon big enough to be president."

Paper Chute Blazes
Damage Ford Office

Detroit, Nov. 19 (AP)—Two paper chute fires early today damaged the four-story administration building of the Ford Motor company's Dearborn plant.

Five persons were overcome by smoke and suburban Dearborn Fire Chief Stanley Herdick was injured in a fall as city and plant firemen brought the flames under control.

A company spokesman said the first of the blazes might have been caused by a discarded cigarette. Saturday the company lifted a ban—which had been imposed by the late Henry Ford in the early days of the firm—prohibiting employees to smoke while on duty in Ford buildings.

The first fire, which broke out at 12:35 a. m. (EST) in the waste paper in a bag at the foot of the three-foot wide steel chute, sent flames shooting up the tube to the top of the building, but was quickly extinguished. About an hour later fire started up again in the wire around the chute, but again was brought under control without delay.

The spokesman said the fire was confined to the paper chute, and most of the damage to the building was caused by smoke and water. There was no estimate of damage costs.

SWEDISH PLANE
CRASH KILLS 20

Fliers Returning From
Ethiopia Among Dead
In Salerno Disaster

Rome, Nov. 19 (AP)—A Swedish plane reported officially to be carrying 30 persons crashed today in the mountains near Salerno.

Correspondents at Ravenna, near the crash scene, reported they had been informed at least 20 were killed and 10 injured.

The Swedish legation said the air ministry in Stockholm informed it that 30 were aboard. Some 21 were Swedish fliers, being returned from Addis Ababa, where they had delivered B-17 planes sold by Sweden to Ethiopia. However, Col. Ingvar Berg, leader of the Swedish squadron, was not aboard.

The flag at the Swedish legation was dropped to half staff and a representative left for the scene.

The American consulate at Naples said 19 were dead and that five of the injured were in serious condition.

The Italian Red Cross and firemen went to the wreckage.

Some of the dead were declared mutilated beyond recognition.

No Milk For Japan,
But One City Has Enough For Baths

Tokyo, Nov. 19 (AP)—Japan's cities have no milk for children except a little of the powdered variety imported from America—but in the village of Kashio, 90 miles north of here, milk baths are available.

Kashio keeps all its milk because of prohibitive transportation costs, and its 90 families have 35 dairy cows.

Residents of Ashio, 10 miles from Kashio, are asking the government to build a highway so they, too, can have milk.

WORK BEGINS
ON PROPOSALS
OF PRESIDENTRATIONING HAS NO
CHANCE TO PASS
IN CONGRESS

Washington, Nov. 19 (AP)—Congress got its teeth into President Truman's foreign aid and domestic anti-inflation programs today with three committees at work and two others preparing to start in a few days.

One committee—the Senate-House economic group—was due to open its study of the president's proposals today. Its chairman, Senator Taft (R-Ohio), who opposes many of the president's suggestions, summed up their chances during the special session this way:

Controls over installment buying and exports are the most likely of all Mr. Truman's cost-of-living proposals to pass congress. Some sort of continued rent control also may be approved.

Domestic Angles Studied

But, said the senator, the power the president asked to restore "selective" controls over prices and wages doesn't stand a chance. Neither, he said, does rationing authority—also asked by Mr. Truman.

The chairman of the House Banking Committee, Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich.), said his group will open hearings on the domestic angles of the president's program next week.

The stop-gap foreign aid asked by the president for Italy, France and Austria is being considered by both the House and Senate foreign committees behind closed doors.

Meanwhile, other senators continued their investigation into the war-time business dealings of Maj. Gen. Bennett C. Meyers.

They heard and saw evidence that the former deputy purchasing chief of the air force used money received from a private company to remodel an apartment, install air conditioning, pay for a Cadillac car and buy a radio, total bill: about $14,500.

The general previously had told reporters he had his apartment decorated at the expense of the Aviation Electric Company, but he said the $10,000 bill for that was a "gift" from Herliot H. Lamarre, head of the Dayton firm.

But Lamarre told members of the senate war investigating committee that he headed the firm in name only. The company actually was owned by Meyers, he said.

'Peace-Mongering'
Of U. S. Promoted
By Friendship Train

New York, Nov. 19 (AP)—The 270-car, two-mile-long Friendship Train, laden with gifts of food for France and Italy, rolled into New York to a spectacular welcome yesterday including a city hall reception at which it was called America's contribution to the cause of "peace-mongering."

The long string of cars carried about 13,500 tons of basic foodstuffs—valued at more than $1,000,000—which had been donated by the populace of many cities and communities as it made its cross-continental journey from Los Angeles. It left the California city with 12 cars.

The food is scheduled to reach France on Christmas eve and Italy New Year's Day.

Michigan Cheated Out
Of $3,600,000 Taxes
By Automobile Racket

Detroit, Nov. 19 (AP)—Recorder's Judge W. McKay Skillman said today that unscrupulous automobile dealers have cheated Michigan out of $3,600,000 in postwar sales taxes.

In a letter to Gov. Sigler, the one-man grand jury urged that the next special session of the state legislature change the sales tax act to plug loopholes.

Judge Skillman, who issued warrants last week against nine Detroit auto dealers and the wives of two of them, said the present sales tax law is clouded in its meaning. As a result, he added, many of the dealers who circumvented it may not have committed a crime.

The grand jury told the governor that "many, but not all dealers" failed to include in their gross proceeds for the sale of a new car, the value of the used car traded in. Instead, he said, they listed only the amount they gave the customer on his old car.

"And in a vast number of such instances," he wrote, "the allowance given for the used car has been hundreds of dollars less than its actual value, as evidenced by what the dealer sold it for."

Former Peninsula
Legislator Jailed
On Fraud Charges

Lansing, Nov. 19 (AP)—William C. Stenson, 47, former state representative from Greenland, Mich., whose story of legislative corruption precipitated the state graft Grand jury in 1943, was jailed here today on charges of war surplus fraud.

Captain Paul Taylor, chief of Lansing police detectives, took Stenson into custody at his Greenland home Tuesday.

Prosecutor Charles R. MacLean said a complaint was made against Stenson by Lester A. Davidson, a Lansing road contractor, who said Stenson obtained $7,500 from him on the promise of delivery of four war surplus bulldozers from the War Assets Administration in 1946.

Davidson charged the machines never have been delivered and that Stenson has refused to make good his promises to return the money.

Stenson demanded examination when arraigned in municipal court here this morning on charges of false pretenses and fraudulent conversion. A hearing date was set for Nov. 28 and Stenson was jailed upon his failure to raise $7,500 bond set by municipal Judge Paul C. Younger.

Detectives have been holding the warrant for more than a week and had planned to arrest Stenson last week if he appeared as a defendant in the state banking conspiracy case in circuit court.

A story told by Stenson of finding cash bribes in his topcoat pocket was one of the major factors in the calling of the Grand jury.

Two Wisconsin
Thugs Get Life

Judge Regrets He Can't Give Death Penalty
To Brute Killers

Waupun, Wis., Nov. 19 (AP)—Robert Winslow, 24, and Buford Sennett, 22, a pair of small town desperadoes who went on a crime spree last weekend and killed a University of Wisconsin medical student and raped his sister-in-law, today began serving life sentences after their pleas of guilty to first degree murder.

Superior Judge Roy H. Proctor, who imposed the sentences, expressed regret that Wisconsin laws do not provide a death penalty. He described the slaying of Carl I. Carlson, 25, married and the father of a small child, as "cold blooded, cruel and revolting."

Earlier, Winslow and Sennett had freely admitted they had shot and killed Carlson last Friday night and kidnapped his sister-in-law, Ann Rosenblatt, 19, a University of Michigan co-ed, whom they admitted raping. However, they were sentenced only on the murder charge.

The young convicts—both had served sentences in a Wisconsin reformatory—had related how they had dumped Carlson's body into a tributary of the Wisconsin river as they drove over south-western Wisconsin Friday night and Saturday morning with Miss Rosenblatt as their prisoner. She escaped when their car became mired. Carlson and Miss Rosenblatt, enroute from Madison to Carlson's home in Badger Village, had hitched a ride with the youths.

Carlson's body was recovered from the river yesterday.

Portal Pay Suits
Tested In Detroit

Detroit, Nov. 19 (AP)—Two portal-to-portal pay suits, chosen as test cases for the U. S. district court, will be tried by Judge Ernest A. O'Brien.

The suits—One of $40,000,000 against the Ford Motor Co. and the other for $7,000 against a division of General Motors—were filed by the CIO United Auto Workers.

Quota About Filled
In Navy Recruiting

Washington, Nov. 19 (AP)—For the second month running, Navy recruiting in October came within a handful of the 15,000-man quota, the Navy said today.

In October the Navy signed up 6,206 recruits and reenlisted 8,731 men for a total of 14,937. September's total was 14,977, over half of them reenlistees.

The 43-year-old former law-maker from the Upper Peninsula told newsmen that in 1941 when the Anti-Branch Banking bill was due to come to a vote in the House of Representatives he found an envelope containing $1,000 in his coat pocket and a note reading "vote no on the bank bill."

Stenson said he voted for the bill and handed the money back to a man later identified as Charles F. Hemans. Stenson's story was credited with influencing former Attorney General Herbert J. Rushton to call for the grand jury investigation.

Stenson served two terms in the legislature, representing Ontonagon-Keweenaw-Baraga county district. He did not run for a third term after the district was reapportioned.

WRECK VICTIMS
CALL FOR HELP

British Crew Marooned
On Barren Isle Off
Newfoundland

Halifax, N. S., Nov. 19 (AP)—The British freighter Empire MacCallum reported today she had begun taking aboard survivors of the shipwrecked freighter Langlecrag after their five-day ordeal of being marooned on bleak Scares Island off the northern tip of Newfoundland.

The Empire MacCallum, one of four ships which plunged through heavy seas toward the island on rescue missions, reported she arrived at 1 a. m. Eastern Standard time, and stood by until daylight to take aboard the crewmen. The Langlecrag also was a British ship.

For five days the seamen—variously estimated at from 30 to 44 in number—were lashed by icy rain and buffeted by giant breakers while their radio operator sent out frantic messages that time was running out. One man was lost when the ship crashed on the shore reefs and broke in two early Saturday.

Hunter In Court
For Manslaughter
At Iron Mountain

Iron Mountain, Mich., Nov. 19 (AP)—A warrant for George Ganz, 46, Chicago, with involuntary manslaughter was issued by Dickinson county prosecutor Ernest Brown today in connection with the fatal shooting of his hunting companion, Orbin Bloom, 45, about 40 miles northeast of here yesterday.

Ganz was scheduled to appear before Judge James Perino in Municipal court today.

Ganz told Brown it was his first hunting trip in the Upper Peninsula. He said Bloom had told him to wait in a swamp while he (Bloom) went ahead on the trail, and to follow him in ten minutes if he did not return. Ganz said he waited the appointed time and set out, believing Bloom ahead of him. When he heard a noise in the bushes behind him, he swung around, saw something moving, and shot at it. Ganz said he ran back to find Bloom's body.

Typhoon Cuts Down
Luzon's Rice Crop

Manila, Nov. 19 (AP)—Three November typhoons have cut the rice crop in Central Luzon—granary of the Philippines—to half its prewar total, and the islands face a grave food threat, Felipe Buencamino, prominent landowner and former secretary of agriculture, said today.

The Philippines earlier had relinquished 32,000 metric tons of its International Emergency Food Council allocation for the year in expectation of a bumper crop.

Weathermen said this morning a fourth typhoon, which they named Gladys for mapping purposes, is due by the end of the week.

DRAWN BY TRAIN

Vassar (AP)—Mrs. Mary Stillwell, 28, who suffered a broken leg and internal injuries when her car collided with a train six miles east of here Tuesday, crawled 300 yards in three and a half hours to get aid at a nearby farm. The mother of six children was taken to Saginaw General hospital. State police said the car was dragged 80 feet in the crash, but trainmen were not aware of the accident.

BRAZEN LIES
EUROPEAN AIDSECRETARY TO CALL
HALT ON SOVIET PROPAGANDA

By Edward E. Bomar

Washington, Nov. 19 (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall injected a new element of toughness today in this country's patient-but-firm policy toward Russia.

Charging that Soviet officials and their Communist allies are lying and know they're lying in a "brazen and contemptuous" propaganda barrage against his European recovery program, Marshall declared "it is time to call a halt."

Peace Sole Aim

"We do not propose to stand by and watch the disintegration of the international community to which we belong," the cabinet officer asserted on the eve of his departure for a face to face meeting with Russian Foreign Minister Molotov.

But while his speech in Chicago last night was his toughest yet as a cabinet officer, Marshall nevertheless pledged that his sole aim at next week's Big Four Foreign Ministers' Conference in London will be to find a sound basis for a European peace settlement.

The secretary omitted any mention of the idea of making peace with Germany without Russia. Rather he said the United States will work for the creation of "a provisional central authority in a federated German state" as a step toward the final framing of a formal treaty.

For himself, he said, "no matter what the provocation," his only purpose at London will be to end the present "tragic stalemate and to speed the advent of a new era of peace and hope for Europe and the world."

America Resentful

However, Marshall said the American people have been goaded into "active resentment" by the campaign of "vilification and distortion of American motives in foreign affairs" waged by both Soviet officials and Communist groups.

"These opponents of recovery charge the United States with imperialism, design, aggressive purposes, and finally with a desire to provoke a third world war," the soldier-diplomat declared, adding:

"I wish to state emphatically that there is no truth whatsoever in these charges, and I add that those who make them are fully aware of this fact."

Marshall thus appeared to be touching off the intensified American "truth campaign" which high government officials said earlier this month was in the making.

In his own review of American foreign policy problems at a joint session of the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations and the Chicago Association of Commerce, Marshall stressed these points:

1. Soviet-American differences are due largely to a "divergence of purpose concerning the future of Europe," rather than any direct clash between their national interests.

2. If Europe is restored as a solvent and vigorous community, the conflict with the Soviets, as far as Europe is concerned, will lessen.

3. The near-collapse of Europe since the war has created in effect a political and economic vacuum which it is "certainly not our purpose to exploit" by filling it with American power. Instead, the United States is working with governments of many political complexes in the effort to re-

New Signals Working At
Ludington And 14th
Streets

The new traffic control lights at the intersection of Ludington and 14th streets were placed into operation Tuesday afternoon by a city electrical crew.

The stop signs on 14th street at the Ludington intersection will be removed and traffic at that point will be controlled entirely by the operation of the lights.

The 14th street signals are synchronized with the traffic lights at 10th and Ludington streets, local police reported. The 14th street light, however, has a control switch at the No. 1 fire station which will permit the fire department to throw a continuous green signal for 14th street traffic in the event of a fire north and west of Ludington and 14th streets.

This is the route followed by the fire truck in reaching fire calls in that area.

"The important thing in our industry," he said, "is that the price of houses seems to have reached a plateau and there is a reasonable expectancy that the price will decline."

Michigan State College Offers Speaker Service

Would your club, or school assembly or church group like to hear a native of Egypt or any of 36 other foreign countries tell about his homeland.

The Student Speakers' Bureau at Michigan State College can fix you up at no other cost than transportation and meals for the speaker.

This is typical of the services rendered by the bureau, a ten-year-old organization which so far has presented 2,000 programs before nearly 250,000 people.

On the speakers' roster this year are approximately 85 people, both graduate and undergraduate students, prepared to speak on subjects ranging from the aforementioned foreign countries to "Art in Everyday Life," "Labor Unions," "Hints On Household Buying," "The Modern Farmer," and "Tomorrow's World of Electricity." Many of the lectures are illustrated. All have been approved by the departments of study in which students specialize.

In addition to the group of speakers, there are nine persons who give interpretive readings of a wide variety of material suitable for many groups, ages and occasions. Included are poetry, plays, essays, short stories and book condensations.

The bureau also supplies programs in the form of discussions and demonstrations in such fields as dramatics, interpretation, speech correction, radio, debate, discussion and parliamentary procedure.

Director of the bureau which is sponsored by the department of speech, dramatics, and radio education, is Gordon L. Thomas, instructor in speech at the college. Arrangements for programs are made through him.

Metropolitan Papers

Folks here were burned up over an article on Our Town I reprinted from a city paper. Made us sound like a bunch of "hicks" who whittled sticks and wore chin whiskers. (Last person I saw with chin whiskers was passing through on his way east.)

So I ran an editorial on how we spoke of city "slikers"—as over-dressed wisecracks, only interested in making money, and spending it in night clubs.

Fact is, if we got to know each other we'd probably find we're not much different, underneath. City folks work hard; like to come home at night to their families; and relax with a moderate glass of beer, like we do.

From where I sit, it doesn't matter if you live in an apartment house or on a farm—work in an office or a cornfield—the American tradition of quiet home life, temperate habits, and neighborliness is common to all of us.

TRAFFIC TOLL 14 FOR DELTA

Corrected Figures Show
Highway Deaths Now

The number of persons killed on highways and streets in Delta county numbers 14 so far this year, with 42 days of hazardous driving conditions yet remaining in 1947.

Previous reports placing this year's traffic death toll at 13 did not include the death of Jack Hough, 20, who was fatally injured Feb. 8 in Garden township. This death was investigated by the state police of the Manistique post and through an oversight was not included in the Delta county total.

This year started off badly for highway safety in the county when two men were fatally injured Jan. 2 near Rapid River. The toll of deaths and injuries on highways and streets mounted to an alarming high until last year's total of 10 was passed about two months ago. Today it is four above the 1946 total.

Five of the 14 traffic fatalities this year occurred in the city of Escanaba.

The fatal accidents in the county occurred in seven different months, including the summer months when driving hazards are at their lowest. The dates and the number of persons killed in traffic accidents so far this year are as follows:

July 21	1

Air Service Schedule Moved Ahead One Hour

Effective Thursday, the north-bound Nationwide Airlines passenger plane serving Detroit, Lansing and the Upper Peninsula will arrive at the Escanaba airport at 12 noon, and the south-bound plane will arrive at 3:05 p. m., it was announced yesterday.

The schedule was moved ahead one hour at all points because of the fewer hours of daylight prevailing during the winter. The new schedule will remain in effect until further notice.

It follows:
NorthboundSouthbound
Read Down Read Up
Detroit 9:00 a. m. 5:55 p. m.
Lansing 9:45 a. m. 5:15 p. m.
Menominee 11:30 a. m. 3:40 p. m.
Escanaba 12 noon 3:05 p. m.
Iron Mt. 12:35 p. m. 2:35 p. m.
Houghton 1:15 p. m. 1:45 p. m.
(All times are Eastern Standard or Escanaba time.)

Under this schedule, a passenger may board the plane in Escanaba at 3:05 p. m. and arrive in Detroit at 5:55 p. m. On the northbound flight, he may board the plane at noon and arrive in Houghton an hour and 15 minutes later with only a few minutes' stop in Iron Mountain to discharge and take on passengers.

The airline company is using both the 10-passenger Boeing and the seven-passenger Lockheed on its Escanaba flights, depending upon the volume of business. On weekends, if business warrants, the 21-passenger DC3 is used out of Detroit to serve the Upper Peninsula, but either the Boeing or Lockheed will continue to serve Escanaba, shuttling passengers to and from Iron Mountain, until runways here are extended to 3,800 feet.

Nationwide inaugurated service to Escanaba last Thursday with the arrival of the 10-passenger Boeing. The east-west runway has been lengthened from 2,400 to 3,000 feet to accommodate the smaller airliners, and under terms of a Federal project presently delayed because of abstract tieups, both runways will be lengthened to 3,800.

More arrests of 19-year-old youths are made than in any other age group, according to Department of Justice records.

HOLDUP FAILS, BANDIT FLEES

Young Man With Green Jacket Sought By Local Police

Local police are seeking a young man who is reported to have made an unsuccessful attempt at a hold-up at the John Wallo residence, 321 North 21st street, Tuesday evening.

Wallo told police that the young man, 19 or 20 years old, about 5 feet, 8 inches in height, of medium build, tried to gain entrance into the home about 10:30 p. m., ordering Wallo to open the door with these words, "This is a stickup." The man wore a black Scotch cap and a green plaid jacket and had a black handkerchief over his face, Wallo reported.

Instead of opening the door, Wallo called the police and the young fellow left. Wallo said that he did not believe the man was carrying a gun.

Price Control No Answer

PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S request to congress for authority to restore rationing of products in short supply, limited price and wage controls is not likely to be approved during this special session. The president was aware of that fact when he outlined his program but it is a neat political maneuver to saddle responsibility upon the Republican majority in congress in the event that economic stability is not achieved before the election year of 1948.

It is doubtful that the president himself really believes that a restoration of the price control program is within the public interest. Only recently Mr. Truman spoke out against what he called "a police state." And yet if we are to restore price and wage controls at this late stage of the game, it would mean government domination of all phases of economic life. In short, it means return to a "police state."

The extension of export controls, as proposed by the president, is essential because it will serve to restrain the shipment to foreign lands goods that may be vitally needed in this country.

A return to price controls now would not really solve our economic problem but would create more and greater black markets. It would discourage production at a time when production increases are the only real hope for economic stability.

It may be well at this point to go back to the start of the postwar inflation in this country and to study the initial cause of our present predicament.

Mr. Wallace was in the presidential cabinet at that time and he was the prime exponent of a cockeyed theory that a wage increase of as much as 25c an hour could be given to workers in American industry without affecting prices of the commodities that those workers produced. Mr. Truman succumbed to Wallace's prodding and the administration took up the chant of the labor bosses.

Shortly thereafter an 18 1/2 cents per hour wage boost across the board was adopted as the pattern for American industry. The inevitable price jump resulted and in another year the labor bosses were back at the trough for more. The next time they received slightly better than 15 cents an hour wage boost and, of course, prices jumped once again to the new level.

During this period practically everyone who had something to sell took the position that this was the time to grab while the grabbing was good. The result was unconscionable profiteering, which further pressured living costs.

Fortunately we are beginning to see the light of stability since production of many goods is approaching or has already reached consumer demand. Other items, notably steel and petroleum products, still are in short supply but virtually all economists concede that the required production levels can never be attained through the medium of price controls that choke off initiative.

Warren Enters GOP Race

THE candidacy of Gov. Earl Warren of California for the Republican nomination for president provides almost certain assurance that no candidate will go into the convention at Philadelphia next summer with enough votes in his vest pocket to assure nomination.

At the moment Gov. Dewey of New York is out in front, even though he has not formally announced his candidacy. Senator Taft and former Governor Stassen, both avowed candidates, have corralled a few votes and there will be the usual state of favorite sons, including Sennott Vandenberg of Michigan who has repeatedly contended that he does not seek the presidency. Warren is certain to attract considerable western votes. Then there are Gens. Eisenhower and MacArthur to whom much political support is rallying despite the fact that neither has indicated any desire to become active candidates. In the case of Eisenhower, the contrary is true since Eisenhower has professed a lack of interest in the presidency.

There will be more candidates as time passes on and the date for the Republican convention approaches. But it seems certain that none will enter the convention with assurance of nomination.

Getting New Blood

THE Kiwanis magazine, in its current issue, carries an interesting article on the subject of encouraging new community leadership. In the article, the author urges every community to open its gates to outsiders who may have something to contribute to the development of its business, industrial, professional and cultural life.

New blood always gives new life to any community. The city or town that is friendly to strangers is quite likely to be one that is plagued with cliques who selfishly go their own way, giving little thought to the welfare or interests of others.

There are some communities that are classified as "cold" by families or individuals who have had the misfortune to be transferred there by employers. Others are just the opposite. In the friendly places, churches and civic organizations extend the hand of welcome, inquire what can be done to make the newcomers more comfortable, and make an earnest effort to have them become a part of the community life.

Some cities make the attracting of new leadership a special project. A West Virginia community has a fine symphony orchestra because industries offered jobs to musicians from all parts of the country. Others have developed excellent bands, baseball teams, civic theatre and other cultural institutions in a similar manner. Such problems usually take care of themselves, however, if every citizen strives to make his town just a good one in which to live.

Problem Of Heating

THE fuel oil shortage is being felt severely enough in Delta county but the condition locally is not nearly as acute as it is in many other areas, particularly metropolitan centers. A top official of a major refinery, for instance, warned this week that 25,000 homes in the Detroit area would be without fuel this winter because of the scarcity of oil.

This brings up a pertinent question. Why are oil burners and space heaters still being sold when the existing supply of oil is insufficient to meet current needs?

And it brings up an even more pertinent question? Why are the railroads being permitted to convert to Diesel engines at the pace that such conversions are being made when the Diesel fuel for railroad engines is making such heavy inroads into existing supplies?

The shortage of fuel oil in the Escanaba area probably will not cause the inconvenience that it will elsewhere, but it does come at a most inappropriate time. It erases the competitive angle locally in the fuel business. The city gas plant already has approached its productive capacity with the result that no more applications will be accepted for the use of gas in home heating. The city steam plant is in a similar position and no more steam customers are being added at this time. And now because of the fuel oil shortage, no additional customers can be taken for home heating with oil.

That leaves only coal to meet the growing fuel needs of the growing city of Escanaba. Fortunately, it appears that there will be no shortage of this fuel this winter, even if the price is high. Pochahontas coal rose 55 cents a ton a few weeks ago and is now at the astronomical price of $17.55, plus tax. There is talk—we hope it is unfounded—of still another price boost in the offing.

SELECTING CHILDREN'S BOOKS (Milwaukee Journal)

These days many fathers and mothers and aunts and uncles are milling around children's book counters. They are looking for books for the youngsters. The books they buy will appear among the Christmas gifts.

We submit that these adults, selecting books for children, have a social responsibility of a high order. While publishers are being more and more careful about publishing books with intolerant and subversive "slants," there are still many which tend to belittle foreign peoples and to degrade races and religions.

It is easily possible, when one goes beyond the books which are merely entertaining (if there are any such), to select ones that will give children a better understanding of national, race and religious differences.

There are many such books at any good bookstore.

The smart person stops at a railroad crossing for a minute, the careless one forever.

MISUSE OF "WHICH"

Dayton: My English class would appreciate one of your sane and easy to follow discussions of the wrong use of "which" in sentences like "He wrecked the car which was due to his carelessness."—Mrs. M.

Answer: The fault lies in using which to refer to the statement "He wrecked the car." When which follows a noun it refers to that noun as its antecedent. Therefore, in the foregoing sentence it is stated that the car was due to his carelessness, which is nonsense.

The sentence makes sense thus: Because of his carelessness he wrecked the car. Now watch this same fault in these sentences:

Faulty: "He received a shotgun on his birthday which was what he had been wishing for." Wishing for his birthday? No, the shotgun. Better: On his birthday he received a shotgun which was what he had been wishing for.

Faulty: "She read the book through, then placed it on the table which took her nearly three hours." Better: It took her nearly three hours to read the book through. Then she placed it on the table.

Another common error, which should be avoided in careful speech and writing, is use of "it" without an antecedent, as: "In

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington —We have been told very often that we are today the richest and most powerful nation in the world. But apparently we do not believe it, for one feels on every hand the kind of fear and distrust that come not from strength, but from weakness.

It has a strange sound, this hysterical clamor. It sounds like the squeaking of a frightened mouse rather than the sure voice of a great nation.

The fear seems to be based on the threat of Communism within the United States. Out of that fear, something very like a witch hunt is developing. And that witch hunt can do infinitely more harm than the splinter of Communism which is so small in comparison to the great mass of American loyalty.

RADIO NEXT VICTIM—

It can destroy the heritage of free thought that is at the base of our free society. Already, in government, methods alien to the American way of life have been applied. Men and women have had their whole future put in jeopardy without being given an opportunity to know the charges against them or to reply to those charges.

Now, apparently, this technique is spreading to fields outside government. In a recent address in Chicago, Clifford J. Durr, a member of the Federal Communications Commission, made a statement that seems strangely to have been overlooked. Condemning the tactics of the house un-American activities committee in its Hollywood investigation, he predicted that radio would be the next "victim." Then he said:

"Already the FBI is furnishing to the commission unsolicited reports on individuals connected with radio, and I can assure you that if you should be told the kind of things contained in many of these reports you would dismiss the information as baseless gossip."

That is an extraordinary statement from a responsible public official. Durr must have made it out of a deep sense of conscience after much soul-searching.

Note the word "unsolicited." It indicates that the FBI initiated investigations and sought to influence FCC decisions by sending reports on certain individuals to the commission. If this is happening, it is something congress should know about.

The individuals mentioned by Durr are not, I understand, broadcasters dealing with news and opinions. But there is apparently nothing to prevent such an "unsolicited" report on the attitudes of those who deal with opinion and news.

"THOUGHT POLICE"—

The mere suggestion of such a step would be enough to frighten the timid into curbing any stray thoughts that could be judged to fall outside the narrowest traditional mould. The Japanese war lords when they were building up a war machine for the conquest of Asia, used "thought police." The "thought police" ferreted out those with dissenting thoughts and clapped them into jail.

Such a concept is utterly repugnant to us. It violates a deep faith in the right of each man to his own beliefs. But conceivably, if the current jitters are not checked, we could drift into something dangerously like the "thought police."

When the Episcopal Bishops met recently, they adopted a resolution introduced by Bishop Angus Dunn of Washington. It was a noble affirmation of the right of conscience. The resolution said:

"The surest way to fight Communism is to work unceasingly at home and abroad for a society in which justice and the dignity of free men are in truth guaranteed to men of every race and condition. An inquisitorial investigation of men's personal beliefs is a threat to freedom of conscience."

The casting of public suspicion on fellow citizens under the protection of congressional immunity can readily become an offense against God's commandment, "Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor." We have no defense for those who, while sharing the privilege of our imperfectly democratic society, seek to undermine its fabric. But we hold it to be the duty of every Christian citizen to guard for others the freedom of conscience we treasure for ourselves."

The malignancy of those who would harness all thought to the cause of reaction is illustrated by the attacks on the Federal Council of the churches of Christ because it presumed to concern itself with social and economic questions. It is essential for free men to stand up against those who would circumscribe and even destroy the right of free speech and free thought.

The paper it says a cold wave is coming. Improved: The paper says a cold wave is coming.

Bad: "Does it have roast beef on the menu?" Better: Is roast beef on the menu?

Bad: "It says on the radio that the president will speak tonight." Better: The radio says that the president will speak tonight.

Note: A sentence may correctly begin with "it" in such constructions as: It is raining; it is very cold; it is growing late; it seems to be true; it is a fact that, etc.

I should advise against beginning a sentence with "Take it," as: "Take it in New York, the theatrical season is at its height."

Improved: In New York the theatrical season is now at its height. Still better: The New York theatrical season is now at its height.

Bad: "Take it in Canada, for example, the winters are very cold." Improved: Canadian winters are very cold.

NO CONTROVERSY—The federal government's program for the rebuilding of this country of the overseas war dead is not a subject for controversy.

Impress them with the beauty of the United States under the guidance of God is wholly patriotic in its intent.

It is our opinion that no child should be asked to contemplate death either for patriotic indoctrination or in the name of religion. Let sinful adults bow their heads in silence if they wish, but spare innocent children the burden of troubled thoughts over something for which they are in no way responsible. Children must be taught to face life including the tragedy of war, before they can be asked to face death.

OUR ANSWER—In reply to "A Concerned Citizen" we would say:

We do not believe there is anything wrong with "The Boosters of This Town." In making Escanaba a bigger and a better place they have not forgotten the war dead—they are remembering the living war veteran. New industries, more jobs for the veteran and his family. All that has been done is still not enough, for the Employment Office reports that jobs here have decreased—because they could not find work and left for other places.

Failure to make a city-wide observance of mourning with the arrival of the first returned body of a war hero from overseas does not, in our opinion, show a lack of reverence. There will be 93 reburials in Delta county within the next couple of years. Who will take it upon himself to determine which shall be publicly honored and which will not?

And if all are honored the public observance would become commonplace and without the significance some people desire.

By Hal Boyle

New York (AP)—Too ill to attend the wedding of princess Elizabeth and Philip Mountbatten tomorrow is another British princess who once proposed to a man—and got turned down.

She is Elizabeth's aunt, Victoria Alexandra Alice Mary, and, so far as I know, the only British princess royal who ever got jilted.

The tale requires a little background:

An ironbound convention among those born to the purple is that women of royal birth, if they want to marry a man beneath their rank, must do the asking themselves.

This, of course, is to protect the royal maids from being besieged by empty-pocketed gentry. If no such rule existed, every commoner with a hole in his stocking might go around proposing to princesses—on the odd chance he'd find one willing to share her castle and well-stocked icebox.

When Elizabeth decided on Philip, therefore, it was up to her to pop the $64 question. It is a pretty safe bet, however, that she didn't ask him over to Buckingham palace for a home-cooked meal, and then melt him down to butter with a direct:

"Will you, Philip?"

In royal circles they are more subtle and work it on a Tinker-to-Ever-to-Change basis. The regal lady calls in a court intermediary and says, in effect: "That guy really sends me. Go see if he won't let me buy him a wedding ring." And the twittering intermediary flies back and forth like a passenger pigeon until the deal's sealed.

"A marriage has been arranged"—the court chronicler then announces.

This system worked well for Elizabeth's great-great-grandmother, Queen Victoria, who thus won the man on the tobacco can—Prince Albert—and bore him four sons and five daughters.

But Mary, the present princess royal and sister of the king, didn't wait for any intermediary to act for her.

She was sweet sixteen at the time, a true daughter of the strong-willed ruling British tribe, and the man of her choice was the grizzled hero of Khartoum, Lord Kitchener.

He was sixty-two years old, but every girl in England adored the stern, tall, arrow-straight military leader.

Home from a campaign in Egypt, Kitchener was escorting princess Mary about the grounds of Windsor castle when the infatuated young girl blushing proposed to him.

She said that, although it embarrassed her, she realized royal custom decreed that in such cases the woman must speak first. So-o-o-o-o, would he be her husband?

Smiling at this unexpected hero worship, Kitchener gently pointed out the difference in their ages. When the little princess eagerly assured him that made no difference, the hard-pressed warrior suggested diplomatically that perhaps she had better talk the matter over with her father, King George V.

Later Kitchener informed the king of the naive proposal and the monarch roared with laughter. But when the king told queen Mary she didn't see anything funny in it, and the little princess got a week's imprisonment in her own room.

Lord Kitchener was lost when the cruiser Hampshire hit a mine in 1916. Princess Mary in 1922 married one of England's wealthiest men, the Earl of Harewood, who died last May.

Aboard the Friendship Train.—This train two sections strong, pulled into New York today, just as a reluctant congress knuckles down to the problems of the emergency in Europe.

Just one month and a week after the idea of a Friendship Train was first mentioned—October 11—the only American people have not only organized this train but hooked on to it around 150 boxcars as a token of how they feel about aid and friendship with Europe.

A couple of months ago, when the president started talking to congressional leaders about a special session of Congress, they contended that it would take a month or more to organize the reports on Europe from the various congressional committees studying abroad.

But, in the brief interim since, an important segment of the American people—a sample cross section of the continent from coast to coast—has gone out and shown what they thought about aid to Europe by doing something about it, not merely talking about it. The boxcars of food they loaded up should reach France and Italy by Christmas or New Year's even while some congressmen are still debating; also when the food pinch abroad is beginning to be felt hardest.

When the Friendship Train pulls into New York, most people won't be able to see it. New York is built that way. Passenger trains come in underground, while freight trains go around to New Jersey.

—GENEROSITY AND TEAMWORK—

Therefore the people at the Atlantic coast end of the line may not realize the effort, generosity and teamwork that went into this symbol of American friendship. They may not know, for instance, that the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen on the New York Central lines east of Buffalo volunteered their services to operate the train; so also did the train crew on the Union Pacific; or that at Spencer, Iowa, a freight train on the Milwaukee road stopped opposite radio station KICD while the train crew trudged through the snow to the radio station to contribute to the Friendship Train.

Most people know the railroads carried this train free but they have no conception of the painstaking details worked out by the hordes in collecting boxcars, getting them hooked on in time, and keeping this train moving across the continent in 11 days.

Most people know that an enthusiastic parade gave the train a rousing sendoff in Los Angeles. But they do not know that Musicians Local 47 contributed eight 40-piece bands for the parade—free. Nor do they know how the Teamsters-Union Locals in many cities furnished men to load and pack boxcars; or how the Hershey Chocolate Company started a boxcar of sugar by boat from Cuba on the same day the Friendship Train left Los Angeles in order to meet the train in New York; or how the little town of Sidney, Nebraska, population 4,000 rolled up two full carloads of wheat—twice as many as Omaha, with a population of a quarter of a million.

It was the small towns of America which, without seeking credit, made some of the most amazing contributions—Julesburg, Colorado, one car of wheat though not on the line of the train; Gering, Nebraska, 1,000 bags of dried beans; Beatrice, Nebraska, Tulare, South Dakota; Marshalltown, Iowa; Manitowoc County, Wisconsin, far off the main line of the train, with one car of condensed milk; the Farmers' Union grain terminal at St. Paul with one car of special Seminola flour of which spaghetti is made.

FRIENDSHIP SURMOUNTS ISOLATION

Some people thought that when the Friendship Train hit the so-called isolationist Middle West, its reception would be lukewarm, even frigid. But the opposite proved true. All through Nebraska—North Platte, Kearney, Grand Island, Fremont—enthusiastic crowds celebrated the loading of bulging boxcars as their token of friendship. They were interested in two things: one, that their aid went direct to the people of Europe; and two, that food builds for friendlier human relations with the rest of the world.

Then on across Iowa, and up through Illinois and Indiana—the score of boxcars kept mounting. Council Bluffs, Iowa, Boone, Ames, Cedar Rapids—with seven big boxcars of rolled oats—Clinton and Davenport, until Iowa had rolled up the biggest total of all. Then Sterling, Illinois, supposed to be in the heart of the Chicago Tribune's isolationist area, but which hooked two cars onto the Friendship Train.

In Iowa, two farmers came aboard—L. C. Peterson of Stanton, and Otis Tuttle of Norway. They had joined twenty other Iowa farmers in paying their own way to Europe last summer to see what the food situation was like. It was one of this group who, when G. O. P. Congressman John Taber of New York said he had seen no hunger in Europe, shot back: Yes, I saw no signs of hunger in Europe—around the big hotels!

An optimist is a man who is always going to pay the pessimist what he owes him.

An Illinois man, accused of stealing a bottle of liquor from a bar, was released. How can you make a case out of one bottle?

Some people are already worrying over this year's Christmas card list—but they probably won't overlook the same people they did last year.

Michigan Forests Never Closed Due To Hazard of Fire

Lansing, (AP)—State Conservation officials point out that Michigan never yet has voided hunting licenses or closed the woods to hunters because of a high fire hazard.

Hunters were barred from the woods in some neighboring states and on the Eastern seaboard during the recent forest fire emergency.

The Michigan method of meeting such emergencies is a Governor's proclamation forbidding open fires or smoking in the danger areas such as was in effect from October 22 to 28. Conservation officials said the excellent public cooperation in such emergencies made more drastic regulations unnecessary in this state.

Costliest Christmas Finds Plenty To Buy

By DOROTHY CAREW
AP Newsfeatures

New York—The old-fashioned Christmas will be back this year for the first time since the war—but it will be the costliest holiday in history.

After years of shortages, Christmas shoppers this season will find stores stocked with the greatest variety of goods since prewar days. Radios, home appliances, fancy household linens and lamps have moved back onto Christmas lists.

Most prices are up—there is no doubt about that. But the range in price has broadened with greater availability of goods. Quality, too, is better than a year ago.

Americans are expected to run up to a bigger gift bill than ever before—but it will not represent foolish spending, most retailers agree. The accent will be on practical gifts and customers are likely to shop around before they spend.

"Both retailers and customers expect—and are getting—something of lasting value in return for higher prices," a gift trade publication spokesman said.

In gifts for the home the accent is on those that are decorative, durable and useful, one home furnishing expert said.

"Gadgety gadgets have lost their appeal in a market that is dollar conscious," he added.

That theme was borne out in a Sales Management magazine poll in ten large cities. Women queried put electrical appliances at the top of their lists of wanted gift items. A new car headed the men's list.

As second choice most men would settle for a new suit or coat this year, while the ladies give second place to radios and phonographs, which men named third.

A spot survey by National Retail Dry Goods Association showed that stores generally expect apparel and home furnishings to top the season's gift buying, with toys and gift departments making a good showing too.

The youngsters will have better made toys than a year ago, and the variety will be far greater—the prices slightly higher. There will be more electric trains and sleds, bicycles, mechanical toys and doll houses. Dolls will be less plentiful, with production off 15 per cent from last year.

Christmas trees will not be up to their pre-war brilliance. Suppliers of trimmings said orders came in so late they won't be able to fill them all. As to the lights, one industry spokesman said the situation will be better than a year ago, but supplies won't be big enough to meet demand.

Newly Patented Car Warmer Announced

Washington, (SS)—A very simple system for warming the air in closed cars has just been patented here by George W. Crise of Columbus, Ohio. It utilizes the heat generated by the engine, by means of an intake that scoops in air that has passed through the top few inches of the radiator. For cool air, there is a second intake, directly above the first, that takes in air that has passed through the grille but not through the radiator.

Both intakes are attached to the underside of the hood, and lead to a common duct that opens into the car body, directing the current of warmed air up just inside the windshield and under the top before it diffuses. There are escape valves in the floor for the discharge of used air. Operation of the entire system is controlled by a thermostat within the common duct. The patent number is 2,430,759.

mand. Outdoor lighting fixtures are short.

But there will be plenty of holiday greeting cards and fancy wrapping paper in greater variety than ever before.

The consensus is that people will be more willing than they were last year to spend for things they really want.

A year ago quality of most goods was not up to par. There were many shortages—and there was a feeling that prices would go down after the first of the year. Yet spending reached a peak.

Early estimates of Christmas spending are that retail sales for the final three months this year will exceed by 5 to 8 percent the 1946 record of $28,279,000,000.

The National Conference of Business Paper Editors summed up the outlook for Christmas gifts this way:

JEWELRY—Adequate supplies of fine jewelry with diamond prices fairly high and no immediate likelihood of a noticeable change either way; better grades of costume jewelry in fairly good supply with prices relatively unchanged from last year.

LUGGAGE—All-leather types in better supply than last year but not up to demand, at prices considerably higher than 1946; fabric covered canvas and linens with leather bindings, much better supply than last Christmas with prices about the same.

PERSONAL LEATHER GOODS—All types in plentiful supply at prices about the same as 1946.

HOUSEHOLD LINENS—Decorative and foreign linens, sheets, pillow cases, blankets, bedspreads and kitchen linens in fairly good supply, but "the prices are up and going higher."

HOUSEWARES—Prices of all except aluminum pots and pans are up. Off-brand appliances are backing up on dealers' shelves, but there "is an extreme shortage of branded merchandise."

FURNITURE—More is available than in 1946 and quality is back to normal standards. Prices about the same as last year.

CURTAINS AND DRAPERIES—Most desirable fabrics are short because of mill deliveries. Prices are rising generally.

RADIOS, PHONOGRAPHS, TELEVISION—Smaller radio sets in ample supply in a variety of price ranges; scarcity of consoles in direct proportion to cost with most expensive tightest. Automatic record changers, phonographs and records in adequate supply "in all possible price ranges." Television, no shortage of consoles, but possibly delayed delivery on table models around $300 retail.

PHOTOGRAPHIC SUPPLIES—Equipment up in price generally from 10 to 20 percent, supply improved in most price ranges; accessories generally plentiful at higher prices; some film types scarce.

GIFT AND ART ITEMS—Greater variety and higher quality of any time since start of war.

Write your question clearly, sign your name and address, and (IMPORTANT) MAIL THIS COLUMN and a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to ESCANABA DAILY PRESS SERVICE BUREAU, 1217 Thirteenth St., Washington 5, D. Q. As a veteran and a farmer, am I eligible for readjustment allowance during "lean" months of earnings?

A. A veteran who is working full time at farming for profit and is otherwise eligible for readjustment allowances as a self-employed person, would be entitled to receive $100 for any given month, less his net earnings for that month.

Q. What are the shortest boxing bouts on record?

A. There were four which lasted only 11 seconds: Rudy Zymek knocked out Alex Luke at Newark, N. J., October 9, 1939; at Corpus Christi, May 12, 1940, Willard Dean knocked out Claude Allen; on March 4, 1942, at Holyoke, Mass., Irish Jimmy Pierce knocked out Tommy Jessup; Joe Jakes knocked out Al Foreman at Broadway Arena, Brooklyn, January 13, 1942.

Q. I have heard that our planes now are able to be in almost constant touch with our home base. How can they do that?

A. Forty minutes after the Superfortress left Tokyo for Washington (leaving July 31) they established contact with the capital and maintained it throughout the 40-hour hop from Japan. The equipment used includes an antenna which can be rotated to point in the direction of a plane and follow it in flight. It is known as the "rotary beam parabolic array antenna." The antenna can be rotated 360 degrees to track an airplane in global flight and would give an air commander direct and instantaneous control over his fighters and bombers at all times.

Q. Are whales fish or mammals?

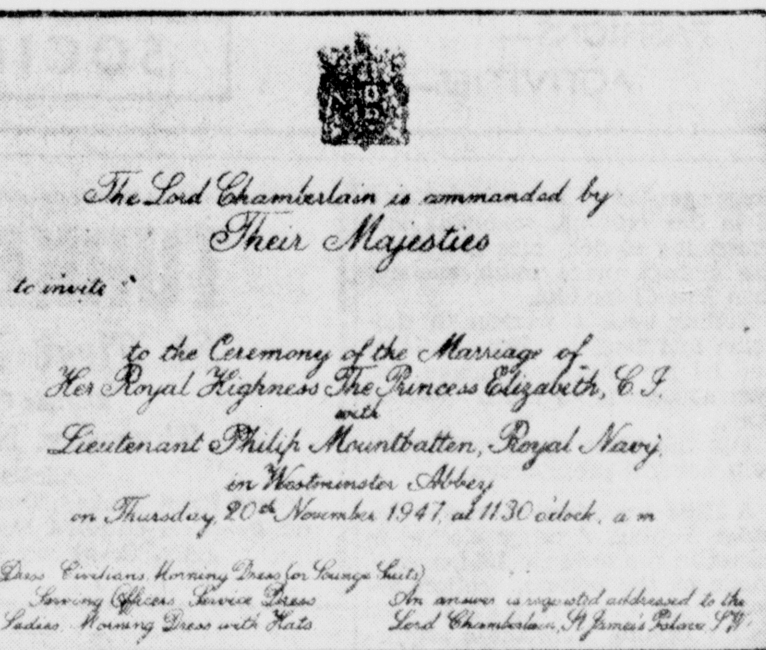

A. Whales are mammals. They bring forth their young alive and suckle then like domestic animals.

Press Agent Wife
Is Hard to Curb

BY RUTH MILLETT

"Help your husband by staying at home," says the curt but pointed title over a magazine article written by the wife of a professional man. The author sets out to blast the belief held by so many wives that the way to help their husbands get ahead in the world is to act as their "press agents," being seen as often as possible with the "best people" in the "right place."

Though her advice is sound, it isn't likely to be taken seriously. The press agent wife can't help being a press agent. She has great faith in her own cleverness and no faith whatever in her husband's ability to get along on his merit.

She needs the ego build-up she gets from feeling that much of a man's success comes from having the "right kind of wife." She doesn't realize that while the "wrong kind of wife" may be able to ruin a man's career, the best that the "right kind of wife" can do for him is to give him an even break by not being a hand-cap.

So she becomes her husband's press agent. And he's a lucky man if in her pushing, scheming and contriving to help him get ahead she doesn't make more enemies than friends for him.

Telling such a woman to stay home and tend to her knitting and let her husband make his own success is so much wasted time. For the press agent wife can't help being a press agent.

A little organization makes for easier ironing. Arrange clothes in basket in the order to be ironed—linens at the bottom, cotton articles next and rayons on the top—thus ironing from those requiring lowest temperatures to those needing hottest. Fold articles before they are completely dry to lessen need for dampening, and roll up neatly, but not too tightly, to avoid deep wrinkles that would require long smoothing. Place clothes basket on a low table near the ironing board. Constant stooping and walking back and forth across kitchen or laundry make for unnecessary fatigue.

The right accessories, like an inexpensive sleeve board, pressing cloth and mitt, a misty sprayer or a cellulose sponge for dry spots, can help you turn out a professional looking job of ironing.

TEST OF GIANT BOMBS PLANNED

Huge 42,000 Pounders To Be Dropped From Superfortress

By Elton C. Fay
Washington, Nov. 19 (AP)—The air force will begin test drops of the world's heaviest bomb—a 42,000-pounder—in about two weeks at Muroc Air Base in the California desert, it was learned today.

Twelve of the huge missiles have been delivered by the Army Ordnance department for the experiments.

The modified B29 Superfortress which will carry the record bomb load aloft is at Eglin Field, Fla. Its crew has completed a course of special training.

The mammoth bomb will be suspended from newly-devised shackles half in and half out of the lengthened Bomb Bay and will clear the ground by bare inches when the airplane makes its takeoff run.

The bombs dropped at Muroc probably will be "Duds," weighted to compensate for the lack of explosive charges.

The fact that several are being used suggests that releases will be from varying heights to observe the characteristics of fall and the depths of penetration into the earth.

It is assumed that Army Ordnance experts then will conduct their own tests of the explosive potential, including the detonating of bombs planted at depths corresponding to those attained in the high-altitude drops.

Mark McKee Fights Contempt Charge in Battle For Son, 7

Chicago, Nov. 19 (AP)—Counsel for Mark T. McKee, formerly prominent in Michigan politics, planned today to appeal a six-month contempt sentence imposed after McKee failed to produce his seven-year-old son, Terry, in court Monday.

McKee is free on $25,000 bond after being found guilty of contempt of court yesterday by Superior Court Judge John A. Sbarbaro.

The steamship and airlines executive is accused by his former wife, Evelyn McKee, of abducting the boy and fleeing to Canada in defiance of a California supreme court order granting Mrs. McKee full custody of the boy.

A recent Ontario court ruling gave McKee custody of the youngster.

Mrs. McKee told the court she saw Terry Sunday through the window of the home of her former husband's daughter in a Chicago suburb shortly after McKee had been served with a writ ordering the child's presence in court.

Her testimony was corroborated by two other witnesses.

McKee testified the boy is in school in Canada.

Briefly Told

Condition Is Fair—The condition of Jerry Erickson, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Nestor Erickson of Groes was reported as "fairly good" today in St. Francis hospital. Jerry and another six-year-old boy, Keith Doucette, were injured when their sled collided with a car Monday evening.

The Doucette boy was not seriously hurt and may be released from the hospital today or tomorrow.

Masonic Meeting—There will be a special communication of Delta Lodge No. 195 F. & A. M. at the Masonic hall immediately following the close of the regular communication, which will be held at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, Nov. 20. The P. C. degree will be conferred at the special communication, and important business is scheduled for regular communication. Lunch will be served at the close of the meeting.

Topping the group was Lucille McGeary who has a perfect mark for 7 years. Next came Ruth Jerfourth with six years, Joan Outhoudt and Marian Tillman have 4-year marks and Helen Jean Outhoudt, 3 years. Perfect for two years were Mary Alice Cameron, Nancy Sue Kjellberg, Patsy Ward, Janet Sue Paine and Dave Kjellberg.

Single year awards went to Ted Aicher, Rex Aicher, Don Brewer, Tom Brewer, Joyce Brewer, Carol Carlson, Carolyn Ensign, Bertha Erfourth, Susan Murphy, Mary Ann Paine, Margaret Paterson, Mary Paterson, Nan Peterson, Alice Outhoudt, Mary Outhoudt, Patty Rohde, Bobby Rohde and Ann Rohde.

Library Adventure

By Arnold Mulder

IN POLITICS or public service there has now and again been a distinguished family in American history, distinguished as a family. The Adams family is frequently cited as an example—with two presidents in it, and an ambassador to England, and several scholars such as Henry Adams and Brooks Adams. The Roosevelt family is sometimes cited as another example.

Family distinction in literature is far less common. It does not happen very often that several members of the same family win honors in letters; nor does a thread of literary distinction often run through several generations in the same family. Writing is usually a solo business, and the same family sometimes contains a writer and a near-literate.

A book recently published calls attention to a single New England family in which four members, a father and three children all won distinction in literature. The book is called "The James Family" and it is by F. O. Matthiessen. The author needed 700 pages to tell the story of the literary prowess of the Jameses.

The four members of this family whose stories are told in the volume are Henry James, Sr., Henry James, Jr., William James and Alice James. In terms of literature the best known of the quartet is of course Henry James, Jr., one of the greatest novelists the English-speaking world has produced. At least two of the remaining three are somewhat dwarfed by the great fame of this novelist.

William James, his brother, is hardly dwarfed by Henry James, Jr., but his fame purely in the field of letters is less impressive. In the field of psychology and philosophy William James does not have to lean on his novelist brother's reputation. But if Henry James, Jr., had not lived William James would probably have a higher place, comparatively, in pure literature than he has today. For he was an excellent creative writer in his own field.

Henry James, Sr., is definitely dwarfed by his more famous son

John Sepic, local barber, almost got his deer Sunday but it went home on the fender of the auto of someone else.

Hunting not far from the Chippeny Creek northeast of Rapid River, Sepic wounded a fine eight-pointer. Evidence indicated the animal was badly wounded so Sepic waited an hour or more and then started in to trail his buck. It took him through a swamp and finally to a fence and clearing.

Though only a two-strand fence, the buck was too spent to jump it, and tracks indicated it rolled underneath and it went on to a knoll to lay down for a last time, a spot where he could watch in all directions.

However in the meantime another hunter had got in ahead of Sepic and had trailed the deer. When Sepic arrived he found that the unknown hunter had finished the animal and then enlisted the help of three nearby hunters in loading it on his auto. He was gone when Johnny arrived but when Sepic explained to them what had happened to him that morning they told him who had his deer. "No wonder he was in such a hurry to get away," said one of the trio.

Lawrence Malnor, 15, and Dusty Malnor, 19, sons of Jennette Malnor, both filled their licenses this season in the country north of Escanaba. Lawrence got a four-pointer but Dusty downed a 6-pointer.

L & L Classic league team took a three game set from the Stegath Lumber company last night, thanks to anchorman Gump Olson, who nearly had Bill Puckelwartz and gang prostrate on the alleys from the fumes of his ever-present cigar.

Puck put up a good fight for the first two games through his continual chatter, but the deadening effect of stogie monoxide proved too much in the nightcap, and the boys faded in the last frame to give the L's the match.

By virtue of their victory, the L & L team continued to press the Clairmont Keglers for league leadership, setting the stage for next week's clash between the two teams. Suede Nelson and cigar will be on hand to trade smoke rings with Gump, so anything can happen.

Being a golfer of renown, Johnny Cass of the Bark River Culvert team found his third game score resembled his last 18 hole effort, after tossing nine splits in ten frames last week. Believe he set some sort of a "tough luck" record.

Leo Knauf of the Farmers Supply posted a neat 243 while pacing his team to a twin victory over the Padres. Leo's score was the highest posted in league competition for the week, although Eddie Gravelle tossed a 249 in practice.

Leading the women bowlers were Ruth Needham of the Elks and Marge Fisher of the Dell's Belles. Ruth came within two pins of the Women's "500 Club" as she twirled a big 493 series, including an even 200 game. Marge compiled a 482 set while leading her team to a two to one victory over Wadhams.

Congratulations to Earl Therrenault for his 603 series, garnered on games of 232, 182, 189. Earl is a mainstay of the L & L team and presently is leading the Classic League with an enviable 183 average.

From the Elks club drifts word that the women's honor roll has added three new members: Marcella Saums, 201, Elaine Morton, 201, and Ruth Needham, 200.

Although posted only two weeks ago, the Y Tavern team had to relinquish its only claim for glory as the Steam Laundry powered a 954 game to better the Y's 951. Eddie Gravelle supplied the needed punch with a 226 finale to a 586 series.

"The Padres", a new entry in the Escanaba league, is composed of five priests from the local parishes. As evidenced by the standings, the "Padres" are tough to beat and have led the league for six consecutive weeks, winning 12 and losing 6.

Endeavoring to increase their margin, members will take the alleys this Friday sporting new bowling balls, with the exception of Father Pat, who does very well with his old one.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

New York, Nov. 19 (AP)—The college baseball coaches who have been maneuvering toward a "no tampering" agreement with professional baseball may suffer a rude jolt at the major league meeting next month. . . . The executive committee put the matter on the agenda without recommendation, then Branch Rickey, who has talked in glowing terms to the American Association of College Baseball coaches, apparently sounded a warning in a talk to the Harvard Varsity club. . . . "We are honest professionals," said Branch. "But colleges throughout the country grab some boy who looks like an athlete, offer him a scholarship and take him away from the big league." . . . One answer might be that even those scholarships merely delay a boy's entrance into pro ball if he really has the stuff. . . . Someone might also point out that Rickey's Dodger organization lost $20,000 this year on one pennant-winning class "D" ball club and that it would be cheaper at that rate to let the colleges develop the material for him. . . . But the heck of it is that, if the big leaguers start attacking the vulnerable points of college sports, there won't be anyone at the meetings to speak for the defense.

Who Won. The football Giants' coach, was talking the other day about a $10 bet he once made with a pal as a result of a chin-wagging session. . . . "We gave the money to Art Rooney as stakeholder," Steve explained. "Rooney didn't know what to do with the $20 so he bet it on a horse. . . . A week later we each got a check for $125 for our share of the bet—and our original $10 still was up."

Sports Before Your Eyes

Story from Philadelphia is that pro scouts from the two teams that drew Penn's George Savitsky in the draft (the Eagles and Dons) say they're willing to trade for him. . . . Six hockey players from one Canadian city are bidding for three available jobs with the Rangers. Cal Gardner, Don Raleigh, Eddie Slovinsky, Church Russell, Ed Kullman and Rene Trudell all hail from Winnipeg—and apparently none of them talked to Roy Conacher. A movie of ex-middleweight champion Mickey Walker and his paintings is to be released under the title of "Mickey Walker on Canvas." When Mick sees that he likely will get up and slug somebody. . . . Three Georgia high schools—Rome, Richmond Academy of Augusta and Brown of Atlanta—are being considered for

BOWLS 'EM OVER—Little Janie Toyer, two, tosses one down the alley in Detroit's Tot-N-Tot League. The only concession made to the youngsters, two to seven, is the light weight ball of three-and-one-half pounds. The pins and alley are regulation size.

Komedy Kings To Perform Here Friday

The Escanaba Delta Hardware, who currently are doing all right as a newcomer in the fast Northern Wisconsin-Michigan Basketball league, will take time out from their championship seeking efforts here Friday night to battle the powerful and entertaining Komedy Kings of New York City. The exhibition game, which promises to be one of those better entertainment features that will haunt the local court scene this season, will be played in the Escanaba junior high school gymnasium and will be preceded by a preliminary encounter.

In addition to basketball talent, the aggregation travels with one "Circus Eddie" Hamman, who is billed not too modestly as "one of America's top clown comedians." Eddie is a white man, but he gets in there and pitches with the colored aces. His act is strictly fun stuff, however.

A new twist has been added to the Komedy King show. Accompanying the group for more laughs is Jesse Garrett, a capable referee who also gets into the act.

Players? Yes, the Komedy Kings have those, too. Two of their best are Billy Copeland, colored All-American from South Carolina State, and Maxie McCray, stellar guard.

Cleaning off the sports desk after a futile effort to get a buck: Two new teams have entered the city basketball league, the Cloverland Commercial college five and the Liberty Clowns. . . . The latter team requires a bit of explanation. . . . No less than six Hirms are on the squad, and they let Dave Friets, Gordon Schills and Glen Leheigh in on the deal. . . . Hirms playing with the Clowns are Charles, John, Pete, Don, Fred and Jim.

On hand a note from Ben Fairman, of Nahma, notifying us that an independent basketball team is being organized in Nahma. . . . He is on the lookout for home-and-home series with likely teams. . . . Managers of any independent teams interested in booking Nahma may write to Ben Fairman, Nahma, Mich.

The Upper Peninsula semi-pro football league tub-thumpers up Ishpeming-way are getting an early start toward organization of a circuit next season. . . . On hand is a letter from Ellsworth "Pinky" Robare, secretary of the Ishpeming Football club, announcing an organization meeting in Ishpeming Sunday afternoon, Dec. 7. . . . Sault Ste. Marie, Ironwood and Ishpeming had independent football teams this season. . . . The ventures were a success but they need any other city team or two to form a U. P. league. . . . If there are any individuals or organizations in Escanaba interested in a city football team, they should contact Robare at 508 East High street, Ishpeming.

Also in the mail box was a letter from Emil "Lock" Schumacher, of Houghton, father of Upper Peninsula ice hockey, who has pledged his full support toward organization and operation of the Upper Michigan Amateur Hockey league comprised of Escanaba, Gladstone, Newberry and Marquette.

Schumacher is president of the Michigan-Ontario-Wisconsin league. . . . He writes: "Hockey looks very good for the MOW league this season. Should all have A-1 teams and some real competition. Hope that shortly they will enlarge the building at the fairgrounds in Escanaba or build a new rink."

"Escanaba sure would be a good addition to our league."

Rice's Joe Watson Is Lineman of Week

New York, Nov. 19 (AP)—Joe Watson, of Rice, hailed as the greatest center in the Southwest Conference since Texas Christian's Kl Aldrich a decade ago, was selected today as the football lineman of the week in the Associated Press poll.

A 233-pound, Watson contributed a sterling game against the Texas Aggies. His blocking on offensive and line-backing on defense had press box observers buzzing. Scouts for Texas and Texas Christian expressed the opinion he is the best lineman they have seen this year.

Gophers Slated To Tip Badgers; Guess Who Is Picked Over Ohio State

Chicago, Nov. 19 (AP)—The last fling at trying to give you Saturday's scores today:

Michigan 42, Ohio State 7—The undefeated Wolverines should open up in this one to end their regular season with a complete rout and solidify their ranking as the nation's top collegiate team. It's a traditional battle, but Ohio State has been out of gas all season. . . . Michigan would like to roll into the Rose Bowl as the best offensive team in the conference's "modern era". Coach Fritz Crisler can do it by letting his boys romp in this one.

Illinois 21, Northwestern 13—The Illini have hopes of snaring the Big Nine runner-up spot and only a victory will keep those chances alive as Purdue and Wisconsin also bid for the position.

The Wildcats shot the works at Notre Dame and made a magnificent showing in losing 26-19.

Possible extraction from the cellar may give Northwestern inspiration enough to make a battle of it.

Purdue 20, Indiana 14—Anything could happen here as the two state rivals engage in the old Oaken Bucket grudge. . . . Minus George Taltalfero, one of the Big Nine's best all-around backs, the Hoosiers have little ammunition.

Minnesota 21, Wisconsin 13—Michigan's deflation of the Badgers, 40-6, should create a great let down.

The Gophers also were surprised by Iowa, but Coach Bernie Bierman figures to conclude his campaign with a victory and thus engineer a 3-3 rating in the conference race. . . . A young, up and coming team, Minnesota already is being boomed as the possible 1948 champion.

Notre Dame 40, Tulane 6—Eager to regain the No. 1 national rating, the Irish will be pitched for a touchdown avalanche against weak Tulane before the battle with Southern California.

Marquette 13, Arizona 6—It's the time the Hilltoppers snapped a five-game losing streak. . . .

Gwinn Tips Trenary, 56-42, In Rainbow Cage League Opener

Trenary, Nov. 19—Led by Trombley and Soyering, who poured in 23 and 19 points, respectively, the Gwinn quintet defeated Trenary, 56-42, in the opening Rainbow Basketball league game for both aggregations.

L. Latvala, Trotter and D. Latvala scored nine, eight and seven points, respectively, to pace the Trenary cagers. Gwinn led 18-11 at the quarter, 28-18 at halftime and 40-29 going into the final quarter.

All Is Serene On PGA Annual Meeting Front

Chicago, Nov. 19 (AP)—The Professional Golfers' Association, having smoothed out its family trouble, which included Vic Ghezzi's disturbance over Ryder team selections, today cruised serenely into routine business minus any signs of storm warnings.

Ben Hogan, who has contended he would like to meet Freddie Corcoran, PGA promotion director, "man-to-man" to settle differences, was limiting his swinging to a teaching clinic today, a high-spot on the annual meeting's agenda.

Corcoran, who has denied charges of mixing up Little Ben in a political move to unseat Ed Dudley as president, so far has not appeared on the scene and is not expected to do so. Corcoran remained in New York.

The PGA executive committee diplomatically called Ghezzi on the carpet to air his grievance of being left off "intentionally" from the 1947 Ryder cup squad. Ghezzi, making public his hurt feelings beforehand, had been threatened with expulsion from the organization for breaking the "code of ethics" which forbids PGA members beefing for general consumption. All complaints are expected to be off the record and settled before the executive board.

Ghezzi, after explaining his feelings to the executive body in a secret session, emerged "satisfied with the explanations" and a member still in good standing. The executive board included Dudley, who earlier yesterday was elected president for the seventh year in balloting of about 70 delegates. The faction booming Horton Smith for the office was crushed in the landslide.

The naming of 33 tournaments for the 1948 season with a prize list totaling $550,000 was pending official sanction for release.

CYO Opposes Lip's Return to Baseball

Brooklyn, Nov. 19 (AP)—The Brooklyn Catholic Youth Organization, which withdrew support from the Dodgers knothole gang last February because it disapproved of Manager Leo Durocher, is ready to discuss the 1948 outlook with president Branch Rickey at any minute.

The Rev. Vincent J. Powell, director, stated the CYO's position clearly in an interview yesterday when he said his organization is the "pressure group" concerned in the Durocher-Brooklyn situation.

"Mr. Rickey has indicated that there are pressure groups interested in seeing Durocher remain out of baseball," Father Powell said in an interview. "I won't double talk. We are the group in question. We haven't had any conference with Rickey or the Brooklyn club recently and will not make any attempt in that direction. Our office is only three blocks from that of the Dodgers and Mr. Rickey knows where we are if he cares to get in touch with us."

Rapid River Five Meets Eben Friday

Rapid River, Nov. 19—Rapid River, victor over Trenary Monday night, will battle Eben here Friday night. Ray Ranguette and George Grenholm will officiate. A preliminary will be played at 7, and the main game will start at 8.

Hit And Miss Items About Deer Hunters

Raymond L. Brandis, Lansing, shot a nine-point, 189-pound buck Saturday morning at nine o'clock while hunting at the Emil L'Heureux camp near St. Jacques.

Successful hunters this season include Ronald Bruce and Jim Anderson, who have returned from hunting at the Harold Bruce camp at Mashek. On the opening day of the season Bruce downed a 9 point 170-pounder, and Anderson bagged a 120-pound six-point buck.

Two bucks are hanging up at "21", deer hunting camp on Baker creek, north of Rapid River. The lucky members of the party are Pete Ethier, who brought down a ten-point, 220-pound buck, and Mike Greis, who shot a fork-horn buck weighing about 120 pounds. Both kills were on the first day of the season.

Paul Sterns, of Erie, Mich., hunting with a party of friends out of the Birch Creek cabins, Gladstone, Route One, filled his license the opening day of season.

Harry Bockorny of Cooks shot a seven point buck at 8:30 a. m. on the opening day of the season while hunting in the Thunder Lake area north of Cooks.

Another Escanaba hunter who filled his license is Tom Elgreet, 1403 South 13th street, who bagged a 10-point 200-pound buck near Horseshoe lake. Shooting the buck was easy, Tom said, but dragging it out—aw!—that was a different problem.

Sheriff William E. Miron and son, Jack, have returned from the Clint Fosterling camp near Ralph where they hunted and were successful in filling their licenses. Sheriff Miron bagged a spike horn, and Jack shot an eight-point 160-pound buck.

Mrs. Mary Williams Is Claimed By Death After Brief Illness

Mrs. Mary Williams, 85, died Tuesday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Healy Holmes, 227 North 12th street. Her death, caused by a heart attack, followed a few days' illness.

Born in St. James, Mich., April 10, 1862, Mrs. Williams came to Escanaba when she was 16 years old and her marriage to Joseph Williams took place here two years later. In 1901 the family moved to Marinette. Following Mr. Williams' death in 1925, Mrs. Williams went to Two Rivers, Wis., to live with a daughter, Mrs. Clarence Elliott, and a granddaughter, Mrs. Harry Gilsdorf. She returned to Escanaba two years ago to make her home with Mrs. Holmes. During the years she lived in Two Rivers, she spent a part of each summer with her family in Escanaba.

Surviving are the following children: Mrs. Clarence (Annie) Elliott, Two Rivers; Theodore

Williams of Kenosha, Wis.; John, of Two Rivers; James and Mrs. Healy (Kathryn) Holmes, Escanaba; 14 grandchildren and 19 great grandchildren; and two sisters, Mrs. Kathryn Dagnais of Flint and Mrs. Wilfred Lequia, of Racine, Wis.

The body will be in state at the Degnan funeral home this evening. Services will be held Friday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Patrick's church, with Rev. Fr. Martin B. Melican offering the funeral mass. Burial will be in Marinette cemetery.
